Shortly before midnight Mr. Field had a telegram sent to Kamsas City, saying that he would be able to come later in the week.
Upon going to bed Mr. Field did not comain, but during the night Fred Field, the urteen-year-old son of the deceased, heard his father groating in his sleep.

The had thought nothing of this until near morning when the skeeping man groated more heavily than before and then became perfectly still and quiet. Roused by an intuitive dread that something was imiss.

Fred, or "Daisy" as the family call him, crept out of ted and awakened his mother and aunis. He then went to the room of Mr. Yenowine, who was sleeping in the house and aroused him.

NO ONE WITH HIM. When the family reached the bedside tey found that Eugene Field was no more, is body was lying in an easy, natural osition. The heat of life had not yet position. The heat of the had expres-died out and a tranquil, peaceful expresalion on his face gave him the appearance of having dropped into a gentle slumber. All efforts to arouse him failed and Dr. Hedges, who was immediately summoned, attributed death to heart failure.

Mr. Field leaves five children, two daughters and three sons. The eldest child is Miss Mary French Field, 19 years of age, and the youngest is scarcely twelve months old. The funeral will take place Wednesday and the interempt will be at Gr.

CAREER OF THE POET. Eugene Field was the son of Roswell Martin and Frances (Reed) Field, and was born in St. Leuis, September, 1850. After finshing his education in the State University of Missouri, in 1871 he adopted the profession of newspaper writer, beginning with the St. Louis Journal in 1872.

His next connection was with the St. Joseph, Mo., Gazette, in 1875, after which he returned to St. Louis to take an editorial position on the 1880.

Boston, Nov. 4 .- A vigorous, but un availing effort was made in the United States district court before Judge Neison States district court before Judge Neison to-day, to have quashed the mulcitment against Rev. Frank hyatt Smith, pastor of the North Avonae Congregational Church, Cambridge. Mr. Smith was present and listened attentively to the arguments of his counsel, Cot. Hopkins, of Worcester, as did the large manner of friends and supporters of the accused preacher. Not the least interested in the proceedings, however, were the men who were opposing han in the church, and are accused by his friends of being in a conspiracy against him.

Many women were present, and it was probably out of consideration for their feelings that certain of the postal cards quoted in the indictment as having been sent by Mr. Smith to members of his con gregation and others, were not read, but merely referred to by coansel in making his argument on the demurrer. Counsel for defendant proposed to file a general denurrer to the indictment, which the court overruled, after which the defendant pleaded "not guilty." Col. Hopkins then asked for a continuance which was opposed by the district attorney, and the court reserved his decision until tomorrow. The indictment includes the names of persons to whom the cards were addressed and the alleged libellous cpithets. Some of the letters are blasphemous and unfit for publication, but the majority are so senseless and incoherent as to appear to be the ravings of a maniac. One gentle-man, not a member of Mr. Smith's church, and in no way interested in its dissensions, is called a "Judas who betrayed his leader." "I'll shoot you on sight" is the threat with

"I'll shoot you on sight" is the threat with which it concludes.

Other epithets used in the cards, are "low bred quarrel breeder," "church wrecker," "peace distarber," "hypocrite deacon," "religious fake," "piens fraud," "mountebank," "whiting liar," "dissembling Iago," "vote buyer," "ceneered deacon," "peannt politician," "prudential thief," "repair fund embezzier," "fire and smoke," "St. John fool," "crinting bypocrite," and "lying toady."

The epithets in most cases are not connected by other words, are underscored, bristle with excitation marks and dashes

FITZ DIDN'T WANT TO FIGHT.

Corbett Shows a Letter to Make Good This Assertion.

Mempins, Tenn., Nev. 4.—James Corbett and his party arrived at Mempins this moraing. Corbett will give an exhibition here to night and go hence to New York. "I will pay no more attention to Fitzsimmons," and Corbett, "I feel convinced now that he never intended to meet me. I would have fourth him for nothing." would have fought him for nothing. In proof of what he stated relative to Fitzsimmons not wanting to flight. Corbett exhibited a copy of a letter from Superintendent Rose, of the Iron Mountain Railroad, to the general passenger agent, H. C. Townsend, in which Mr. Rose states that he could have gotten Fitzsimmons through to Hot Springs without trouble, but for Fitz himself. "Fitzsimmons acted as if he did not want to fight," was a sentence in the letter.

Corbett said further: "I am thinking seriously of quitting the ring. I will make up my mind fully on my arrival in New York. There is nothing in the business any more felony, and I do not want to be classed as a common criminal. Still, I believe that non-interference with prize fighting would make men trust to nature's weapons and would eventually do away with she and cutting."

The election of the latter is of special mportance, as it will elect a successor to Senator Calvin 8. Brice. The campaign has been a hot one and fought with unusual vigor on both sides. The Republican State mmittee states that 860 speeches were nade under its direction, and fully that many were made on the Democratic side. Ex-Gov. Campbell himself made 55 speeches.

On the Democratic side State issues have een adhered to, and the Republicans have en vigorously assailed on the ground of corruption in the Legislature and ex-travagance in Gov. Besides defending themselves from these charges, the Republicans have at-tacked the Democrats upon national grounds, claiming that the question of the return of Senator Brice raises a national issue. Report of a "Hog Combine" Dinner at Which Something Dropped.

Asserted That $200,000 Was Piedged to Prevent Senator Quay from Controlling National Delegation.

All of the Republicans at that diener were friends of Gen. Harrison. They propose, with the aid of the Hon. Chris Magse. of Pittsburg, and with the incidental sup-port of the $200,000, to try to secure the majority of the delegates from the Key-stone State. Senator Quay is aware of what is go

In full appreciation of the grand field that will be opened up for the display of their peculiar theirts, schemers are preparing for a great campaign.

The political play on the part of the Republicans will be to prevent the Administration from getting out of the hole into which it is plunged and at the same time to produce an impression that they new inevenient to overthrow him and to advance Harrison's chances in the Keystone State,

The anti-Quay and pro-Harrison movement started the other night in Philadelphia at a private dinner, which was attended by most of the numbers of the new famous

It is not really expected that they will do pusch to increase the Federal revenues unless they can do it by restoring the duty on wool and raising the tariff wall in various directions, whereas the administration will not allow that to be done, but will insist that whatever increase is necessary be made upon articles of detections.

TREASURY RELIEF.

TREASURY RELIEF.

As for remedial currency legislation, very few well-informed men in public life expect to see it enacted by the Fifty-fourth Congress, at least not until after the Presidential election next fall. Something may be done in that line during the short session, but even that is problematical.

The foregoing properly describes with cold impartiality the general outline of the situation in a broad way, and, as will be seen, she play along the lines suggested will give ample freedom for the maneuvering of the "black flag" squadrous.

The lobby gangs in and out of Congress are licking their chops in anticipation of the feast next winter. Several "jobs" with "big money" in them are being projected, and an infinite variety of smaller and less ambitious schemes are in the incubator. A small part of this colossal indebtedness has matured and the rest will be come due stragglingly during the next three or four years. It was the original sinister purpose of the bolders of the first mortgage bonds of these roads, who, by the way, are also holders of the majority of the capital stock, to "freeze out" the Government by seizing the properties under foreclosure, leaving Uncle Sam out the entire amount invested, which investment is represented by mortgage and interest paid out as in-

Indeed, this precious game has not yet been entirely abandoned, and forecle suits are now pending in one or more States in pursuance of the plan, but the conspirators are not entirely satisfied that they can get away with the steal, and so they have determined to make a great play next winter for a cash "Scale" settlement with the allowance. "scale" settlement, with the alternative of an extension of their obligations for first og a bundred years at two per cent, or a still lower rate. PLANS COMPLETED.

A plan of legislative action has been fully matured during the past sea New York and Boston. The plotting been carried on with the utmost secrecy and very few outside of those directly interested have any idea of the magnitude of the campaign mapped out.

It is whispered that the big moneyed interests concerned are prepared to give up $2,000,000 to carry their deal through, and that they have every assurance of success, having laid their wires with consumparts advertises. summate adroitness and gained assur-saces of friendly co-operation in most influential quarters.

A funding bill would have gone through Congress last winter but for the fact that the Union Pacific and Central Pacific were at loggerheads and could not agree upor After the failure of the Reilly bill the Huntington crowd charged the Union Pa-cific people with having betrayed them.

The accusation was well founded. The Continued on Fourth Page.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 4.-Harrodsburg, the home town of Gen. P. Wat Hardin, gave him an ovation to-day. The process sion was swelled by enthusiastic citizens of all counties adjoining Mercer, who came here to listen to Gen. Hardin's closing campaign speech this afternoon. At Har-din's headquarters all is serene, and the utmost confidence prevails that Kentucky will roll up a handsome majority for the entire Democratic ticket.

On the other hand, prominent Republi-cans claim that Bradley will carry the State by 5,000 to 10,000. The Prohibition and Populist State tickets will cut no material figure in the contest. The present Governor, John Young Brown, carried the State by over 28,000 and the present canvass has been so

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 4.-The hottest campaign in the history of Maryland poli-tics closed to-night, when the party managers shut up their respective headquarters preparatory to the battle of ballots on the morrow. A Governor, comptroller, and State's attorney, house of delegates, and fourteen senators will be selected. In Baltimore city a full municipal ticket will be chosen. There are four tickets in the field, but it is conceded that the fight will be between the Democrat and Benublican conditions.

Republican candidates.

Many leading Democrats of the State have endorsed the Republican gubernatorial candidate, Hon. Lloyd Lowndes, of Alle gany county, and have stumped the State in opposition to Millonaire Merchant John E. Hurst, of Baltimore, who, they claim, was folsted upon the Democratic conven-tion by Senator Gorman.

"Down with bossism," has been the slogan throughout the canvass, and the anti-Gor man-Rasin Democrats have worked hard for the overthrow of the "ring." It is claimed that the Cleveland Democracy of city and State will vote for Lowndes to a man, and many of them will cast the entire Republican ticket. The legislature that is chosen to-morrow will select the successor to United States Senator Gibson, and thir-teen of the senators will participate in the election of a successor to Senator Gorman The Democratic managers are to-pight
